

Social Security Information

People who wish to apply for Social Security retirement benefits but who find it difficult to visit a Social Security office can make initial application by telephone. Social Security personnel will obtain the necessary information and then arrange to complete the application process by mail.

Application for retirement benefits should be made at least 2 or 3 months before the person plans to stop working. This will help assure that benefits will start the month of retirement. The first check should be received early in the month following the first full month of retirement.

Certain documents are essential for establishing eligibility for retirement benefits. They include a Social Security card or a record of the number and proof of date of birth, such as a birth certificate or a religious record of birth or baptism that was recorded before the person was 5 years old. These documents must be original records or copies certified by the agency that issued them.

In the event that original records or certified copies are not available, the best possible evidence of date of birth should be submitted. These include, among others, school and church records, a marriage license, a passport, and employment or military service papers.

Applicants for retirement benefits should also submit their Wage and Tax Statement forms (W-2) for the preceding 2 years, and self-employed individuals should submit copies of their tax returns plus proof of earnings may not yet have been credited on the applicant's Social Security record.

A spouse who applies for benefits will have to provide similar documentation. In addition, a marriage certificate may be required. The birth certificate and Social Security numbers of eligible unmarried children should also be submitted.

Additional information about Social Security applications and benefits is available at the Dothan Social Security Office, located at 204 N. Dates St. The telephone number is 794-3161.

An elderly Selma woman was recently walking from her bank when a man approached her with an offer that seemed too good to refuse. He said he had found several thousand dollars stuffed in a large can and would share it with her if she would show her good faith and withdraw some money from her account. She would then divide the money he had found.

The woman not only never saw one penny of the "found" money, she also lost her life savings. She was another victim of a bold but common confidence game known as the "Pigeon Pop." Sometimes the stranger says the money was inherited and he doesn't need all of it. Or a stranger says he is a bank examiner and needs your help to catch a dishonest bank employee.

In all of these rip-offs, a stranger asks you to give him money. You should always be on guard for such a get-rich-quick scheme.

Another common rip-off occurs in a door-to-door approach. Often a man will claim to represent the city or county and will say that your home needs certain work on it to meet the requirements of the law. Don't take his word for it. Call the government agency he claims to represent and verify what he says.

If a door-to-door salesman offers to do home repairs, always get a written estimate of the cost first. Compare this cost with other businesses. Check on any repair work you have under way, and don't hesitate to complain if you aren't satisfied with the work. If the workers won't complete the work they promised to do, see a lawyer.

Swindlers are everywhere and a consumer must learn to spot them. Once you have signed a contract or made a purchase, you may never get off the hook. The following are several ways to avoid being ripped off:

Don't fall for the sympathy approach, such as "I'm working my way through college." It's often a line to get you to sign up. Organized crews are trained to tell sob stories. Once you sign, they take your money and move on to the next town.

Before giving money to a local charity or other worthy cause, call to verify the solicitor's identity.

Do not send money to someone listed in a chain of letters. Chain letters are illegal. If you get one, take it to your local post office.

Watch "Going out of Business" sales. Some stores have fake "selling out" sales just to get you in the store.

Beware of leads to unexpected inheritances. Swindlers have collected millions of dollars in fake "expenses" by leading people to believe they can inherit money from estates of distant relatives.

There's no easy way to earn money at home. Most work-at-home schemes require you to buy something in order to earn. You find later there is no market for what you produce, or your efforts are "not up to standards."

Watch out for high interest rates. Credit cost can more than double the total cost of things you buy. Compare the cash price and the total cost when all interest and finance charges are included. Know the true interest rate and don't be misled by a promise of low monthly payments. Shop around for financing as you would for shoes.

Avoid "bait and switch" ads, such as "Three complete rooms of furniture, only $178." These unbelievable ads are often come-ons, and the item is not really for sale. Salesmen may then try to get you to switch to overpriced items.

Vanity can cost you money. No known product or services can grow your hair, make you taller, remove wrinkles, develop your bust, or reduce your weight by massage, creams, belts or girdles.

Sheriff Paul Asks County Commission For Help In Fighting Pending Lawsuits

The Coffee County Commission met in regular session on Monday, Aug. 8 at the courthouse in Elba and held a short, but active meeting.

Present at the bi-monthly meeting were chairman Marion Brunson and commissioners Rex Boutwell, Billy Eagerton, Gilmer Grant, Charlie Mack Martin, Eugene Bradley and Marvin Bowden.

After the routine approval of the minutes of the previous meeting, the commission bowed in a moment of silence in memory of former county commissioner Flourney Whitman, who died over the weekend.

Sheriff Brice Paul was the meeting first visitor, and the sheriff addressed the commission of three items.

A special assessment of $954 to be made annually for three years to the Alabama Sheriff's Association for requested by Sheriff Paul, who is the president of the state-wide organization. The money, to be collected from all counties based on population, will be used to help cover the expense of purchasing a central office for the sheriff's organization.

Comm. Martin stated he felt the amount was excessive and suggested the county make a one time allocation of $1,000.

Sheriff Paul stated the request would be made annually and asked the commission to pay the first assessment, then consider the next two payments in future budgets. The commission agreed to the sheriff's plan, but made no promise of making the second and third payments.

Legal expenses, and who will pay was again brought up by Sheriff Paul.

County Engineer Frank Charlton reported to do an adequate job of erosion control on Donaldson Road would cost over $2,000, and thus, the work must be put out on bids. The bids will be opened on Aug. 12 at 10:00 a.m.

The commission chairman and clerk were authorized to sign paperwork from the State Highway Dept. for work at Turner's Crossroads. The paving of the 2.98 stretch of road will cost, in excess of $200,000, and the expense breakdown is as follows: $77,081.95; 1982 Federal Secondary Aid Funds; $101,047.02-1983 Federal Secondary Aid Funds and $59,376.32 from county funds.

The bids will be let soon and then, actual work will begin on the project.

The commission approved the election of directors to the Victoria Community Water Authority and directors named include Mack King, Frank Chirico, Mike Thomas, Tim Bragg and Harold Hughes.

In other action at Monday's meeting the commission:

tabled nominating three residents to the Board of Equalization until the Aug. 22 meeting;

reported it would possibly swap a tractor for three pieces of cutting equipment;

was reminded of an upcoming workshop on county administration at the University of Alabama;

received a "thank you" note from the Weeks Assembly of God Church for placing an historical marker on the Hart Family Grave.

agreed to invite a Civil Defense official to a future meeting to discuss Coffee County Sheriff Brice Paul asks county commissioners to help pay legal expenses to be incurred in upcoming lawsuits.

organizing a countywide program; heard Judge Brunson state work would begin soon on landscaping county grounds; heard that work was underway on renovating the commission office in the Elba courthouse;

instructed the county engineer to make plans on closing out the old landfill in New Brockton;

stated it would offer to install a grass drainage ditch in the Jeter Subdivision to solve water problems;

and, paid bills.

Election Dates Still Up In The Air In Alabama

It has been several months since a federal court judge ruled that Alabama must hold new elections to conform with new district boundaries brought about by reapportionment; however, the date of the elections is still up in the air, as the political parties ponder the need for primaries.

Bill Stokes, State Democratic Party Executive Committee member, reported this week that the party has until August 12 to determine whether to nominate candidates or hold primaries. It is Stokes' contention, based on discussions with other party officials, that primaries will not be held and that candidates will be appointed.

Nothing will be official until after August 12, and even then the date of the election may change, as some state officials report the November 8 general election will be moved up to September 27 if no primaries are held. This possibility seems remote, however, as Republican primaries are expected in some areas.

About the only certainty at this time is that both Rep. Jimmy Holley and Sen. Crum Forsee will be seeking re-election!

Weekend Deaths Claim Prominent Elba Citizens

Mr. Whitman

Mr. Lee

The City of Elba continues to be in mourning this week following the weekend deaths of two prominent Elba residents. These citizens - Flourney Whitman and M.J. Troy - both died on Saturday following brief illnesses.

Mr. Whitman was a lifelong resident of Coffee County and was active in both city and county affairs. He was one of the original organizers of the Elba Volunteer Fire Department in 1931 and served as fire chief 22 years. Whitman served as a county commissioner for 24 years - from 1952-1976, and in 1977 was named Elba's "Man of the Year."

A paragraph from an Elba Clipper news article on March 31, 1977, best described the late Mr. Whitman, as follows:

"Businessman, farmer, public servant and government official, Whitman has been faithful in his service to his God, his community and to his fellowman."

Mr. Lee was also a lifelong resident of Coffee County and was also a member of a prominent Elba family. He was the Standard Oil distributor in Elba for many years and served on the Board of Directors of the Elba Exchange Bank. [See obituaries on Page 2.]

Additional police and trained dogs joined the manhunt following the second sighting, but the elusive escapee remained at large.

At approximately 2:30 p.m. Jones allegedly entered the home of Glen Kersey on George Wallace Drive and took Kersey's wallet and a .257 magnum revolver. The police were before Jones left; however, the escapee ran from the home and eluded the officers. The police were still looking for Jones when at 1:25 p.m. the escaped inmate was seen attempting to enter the home of J.C. Carr, located on Norfolk Avenue.

The need for new police cars was discussed again Monday night, and Chief John White reported on the possibility of buying some used cars from a dealer in Chicago. The used Chevrolet police cars have 20-30 thousand miles and can be purchased for $6500. White asked for three vehicles, as all the present cars now have over 100,000 miles, but English expressed reservations over the ability to buy more than two during the next year. The council authorized the advertising for bids on two used cars equipped with police packages.

A discussion about paving a one-block section of Plant Avenue, near the levee, resulted in a consensus to leave the street as is and continue to grade it. English told the council it would cost $1000 to single-surface the street used by two families, and heavy traffic such as trucks would destroy this. For a heavier project, the cost would be $3000, and the council felt there were more pressing needs for tax funds.

W.M. Patton was nominated to serve on the Coffee County Board of Equalization. If selected, he will replace Joe Clark, whose term has expired, and who has expressed a desire to step down.

A stronger drunk-driving law apparently will become law in Elba following the next city council meeting. The city received recommendation from the League of Municipalities that Elba adopt the strong DUI bill signed into law by Governor Wallace recently. Council members were given copies of the bill and asked to study it until the next meeting.

STOLEN TRACTOR RECOVERED . . . City and county law enforcement officers examine a small garden tractor that was reported stolen in Pike County back in July. The tractor was recovered in Elba last week after police received information on its whereabouts.

Elba police also recovered two chain saws and a toolbox stolen in rural Coffee County.

Brainstorms

By FERRIN COX

It has been a bit shaky in my neighborhood during the last few days. We have had no less than four neighbors to die within a seven- or eight-day period, and all of them were good folks. Probably the one that surprised us the most was Flournoy Whitman. We knew he had been admitted to the hospital, but assumed it wasn't serious, or quoting one of my fellow workers, "Mr. Whitman was so active, I never dreamed he would have serious heart problems." The three men who died within 24 hours of each other were G.L. Pinckard, M.J. Lee and Whitman. They followed by about a week the death of Mrs. Clara Miles, and probably all three men were at her funeral. We never know when our name will be called.

It was an interesting experience for me at a funeral Monday. While sitting in the church prior to the funeral, people began to react to a loud whistle, obviously coming through the P.A. system. No extra music feedback could be heard, the organ apparently wasn't the source, and about halfway through the service, it was noticed that the pitch changed when a certain man touched his hearing aid, etc. As soon as it was brought to his attention he immediately stopped the high-pitched sound. Apparently the pitch of the sound was just right to be picked up by the P.A., even though those near the man didn't realize his hearing aid was emitting the sound.

We read that the AFL-CIO are planning to endorse a candidate for president earlier than before, feeling it will benefit their selected candidate. It can surely help in the raising of money for the campaign, but it could backfire on the union. It is assumed they will back the Democratic party, not being in love with President Reagan, but if their candidate (probably Walter Mondale) loses badly, it could lower that mystical thing called clout, and further reduce the recession-wounded union. We have no quarrel with their endorsing - they have the same rights we have; but where we don't want or need political clout, it is the life's blood of the unions in their Washington lobbying efforts.

We read that the experts are predicting a 15 percent increase in orders for new tractor-trailers during the next year. Part of this is due to the upturn in the economy and part is due to the federal law allowing longer trailers. We hope a representative share of this increase comes to the Dorsey Trailer plant in Elba.

We haven't caught any bragging fish in so long we don't remember the last time, but we did hear a story of some nice bass being caught in the Pike County Lake this week. One north Coffee County man reports over 100 pounds of bass in the past week, fishing with shiners in the early morning. Just a few years ago Coffee County Lake was one of the top bass lakes in the state, but it has fallen from the news in recent years. Maybe the state folks will do something soon to get it back on top, but then there may be nothing they can do about it.

If you are interested in a collector's item car and have $21,000 to spare, a firm in Columbus, Ohio, happens to have what they describe as the last of the DeLorean cars for sale. We recall that DeLorean's business closed after he was charged in a major drug case.

A car business that didn't close, however, is Chrysler Corp. They received $1.2 billion in government guarantees in 1980 and 1981 to prevent bankruptcy. The guarantee helped company president Lee Iacocca pull the company back to life, and now he is crying because the feds are planning to actually take advantage of the little "sweetener" Chrysler gave to get the loan. The stock warrants (or chances to buy Chrysler stock) give owners a chance to buy Chrysler stock for $13 a share. That seemed pretty wild at the time they were issued, and Chrysler was selling way below $10. Now, however, Chrysler stock has jumped above the $20 mark and representatives of the company are wanting the government to forget the options, give them back to the company, or anything but sell them. "It ain't fair" is the message the company seems to be sending. Yet we consider this the price the company paid for the bailout and for the government's taking so much flak from the voters and newspaper columnists.

It is hard to believe that football season is upon us again. Here it is only a couple of weeks until the high school team trots onto the field and begins that age-old battle of getting the pigskin from one goal post to another.

We understand that Playboy magazine has picked Auburn University as the No. 1 football team in the nation for this year. For the past 25 or so years that magazine existed on its efforts to select girls that can expose the pigskin in all its glory, therefore, we aren't sure that gives them any expertise in selecting football teams. But then pre-season selections are only guesses anyway - so . . .

SSI Recipients Must Report Any Changes

People in the Elba area who receive supplemental security income (SSI) payments have a very important responsibility to report any change in their circumstances that could have an effect on their eligibility or amount of their payment. Mary Coleman, Social Security district manager in Dothan, said recently:

SSI is a Federal program that provides a basic cash income to people 65 and over, or blind, or disabled who have little income and own little property. Although SSI is administered by the Social Security Administration, all funds come from Federal general revenues. A person who does not report a change may get too much money and have to pay it back. Or, the person may miss out on money if the change would raise the payment. A person must report: Any change in a savings account, Christmas club, certificates of deposit, or any account. A person whose name is on someone else's account must report this, too, even if he or she does not use the account.

EHS Purchases Apple Computer

Elba High School recently purchased an Apple II micro-computer. With the purchase of this micro, the faculty is learning new ways to serve the students at the school. Buddy Windham and Waylon Sharpless, Guidance Counselors at Elba High School, have found that by converting the micro to a "dumb terminal," they can obtain computerized occupational and career information from the State Occupational Information Coordinating Committee (SOICC). SOICC is a division of the Department of Industrial Relations.

Dr. Mary Louise Simms serves as the Director of the State Occupational Information Coordinating Committee (SOICC). SOICC was established by federal law, and there is an SOICC in every state.

Alabama was one of the first states to develop a computerized occupational and career information system. SOICC provides supply and demand data and demographic data in addition to the computerized occupational and career information. This service is provided to users free of charge. The only expense to the school was the purchase of the equipment required to convert the micro to a terminal.

The computerized career information system offers

Late Taxpayers Must File By August 15

Philip J. Sullivan, District Director of Internal Revenue Service in Alabama alerts individuals who applied for automatic extension to file their federal income tax returns that they must file the completed return and pay any remaining tax by midnight, August 15.

A copy of the extension request, Form 4868, must be attached to the completed return. Sullivan said, "If a taxpayer is entitled to the automatic extension because he or she was outside the United States on April 15, a statement to that effect must be attached to the return."

Extensions beyond the automatic 4 month period are granted only for very good reasons. Form 2688, Application for Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, may be used. Taxpayers should request this additional extension early so that, if denied, they will be able to file by the August 15 due date.

For additional information regarding filing extensions, contact the IRS at 252-1155 in Birmingham; 433-5532 in Mobile; 264-8441 in Montgomery; 538-2751 in Huntsville; and 1-800-242-1040 elsewhere in Alabama.

Late Taxpayers Must File By August 15

Philip J. Sullivan, District Director of Internal Revenue Service in Alabama alerts individuals who applied for automatic extension to file their federal income tax returns that they must file the completed return and pay any remaining tax by midnight, August 15.

A copy of the extension request, Form 4868, must be attached to the completed return. Sullivan said, "If a taxpayer is entitled to the automatic extension because he or she was outside the United States on April 15, a statement to that effect must be attached to the return."

Extensions beyond the automatic 4 month period are granted only for very good reasons. Form 2688, Application for Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, may be used. Taxpayers should request this additional extension early so that, if denied, they will be able to file by the August 15 due date.

For additional information regarding filing extensions, contact the IRS at 252-1155 in Birmingham; 433-5532 in Mobile; 264-8441 in Montgomery; 538-2751 in Huntsville; and 1-800-242-1040 elsewhere in Alabama.

Brainstorms

By FERRIN COX

It has been a bit shaky in my neighborhood during the last few days. We have had no less than four neighbors to die within a seven- or eight-day period, and all of them were good folks. Probably the one that surprised us the most was Flourney Whitman. We knew he had been admitted to the hospital, but assumed it wasn't serious, or quoting one of my fellow workers, "Mr. Whitman was so active, I never dreamed he would have serious heart problems." The three men who died within 24 hours of each other were G.L. Pinckard, M.J. Lee and Whitman. They followed by about a week the death of Mrs. Clara Miles, and probably all three men were at her funeral. We never knew when our name will be called.

It was an interesting experience for me at a funeral Monday. While sitting in the church prior to the funeral, people began to react to a loud whistle, obviously coming through the F.A. system. No extra mike feedback could be found, the organ apparently wasn't the source, and about halfway through the service, it was noticed that the pitch changed when a certain man touched his hearing aid, etc. As soon as it was brought to his attention he immediately stopped the high-pitched sound. Apparently the pitch of the sound was just right to be picked up by the P.A., even though those near the man didn't realize his hearing aid was emitting the sound.

We read that the AFL-CIO are planning to endorse a candidate for president earlier than before, feeling it will benefit their selected candidate. It can surely help in the raising of money for the campaign, but it could backfire on the union. It is assumed they will back the Democratic party, not being in love with President Reagan, but if their candidate (probably Walter Mondale) loses badly, it could lower that mystical thing called clot, and further reduce the recession-wounded union. We have no quarrel with their endorsing - they have the same rights we have; but when we don't want or need political clout, it is the life's blood of the unions in their Washington lobbying efforts.

We read that the experts are predicting a 15 percent increase in orders for new tractors during the next year. Part of this is due to the upturn in the economy and part is due to the federal law allowing longer trailers. We hope a representative share of this increase comes to the Dorsey Trailer plant in Elba.

We haven't caught any bragging fish in so long we don't remember the last time, but we did hear a story of some nice bass being caught in the Pike County Lake this week... one north Coffee County man reports over 100 pounds of bass in the past week, fishing with shiners in the early morning. Just a few years ago Coffee County Lake was one of the top bass lakes in the state, but it has fallen from the news in recent years. Maybe the state folks will do something soon to get it back on top, but then there may be nothing they can do about it.

If you are interested in a collector's item car and have $21,000 to spare, a firm in Columbus, Ohio, happens to have what they describe as the last of the DeLorean cars for sale. We recall that DeLorean's business closed after he was charged in a major drug case.

A car business that didn't close, however, is Chrysler Corp. They received $1.2 billion in government guarantees in 1980 and 1981 to prevent bankruptcy. The guarantee helped company president Lee Iacocca pull the company back to life, and now he is crying because the feds are planning to actually take advantage of the little "sweetener" Chrysler gave to get the loan. The stock warrants (or chances to buy Chrysler stock) give owners a chance to buy Chrysler stock for $13 a share. That seemed pretty wild at the time they were issued, and Chrysler was selling way below $10. Now, however, Chrysler stock has jumped above the $20 mark and representatives of the company are wanting the government to forget the options, give them back to the company, or anything but sell them. "It ain't fair" is the message the company seems to be sending. Yet we consider this the price the company paid for the bailout and for the government's taking so much flak from the voters and newspaper columnists.

It is hard to believe that football season is upon us again. Here it is only a couple of weeks until the high school team trots onto the field and begins that age-old battle of getting the pigskin from one goal post to another.

We understand that Playboy magazine has picked Auburn University as the No. 1 football team in the nation for this year. For the past 25 or so years that magazine existed on its efforts to select girls that can expose the most skin in the most provocative manner without getting them all in jail; therefore, we aren't sure that gives them any expertise in selecting football teams. But then pre-season selections are only guesses anyway - so...

SSI Recipients Must Report Any Changes

People in the Elba area who receive supplemental security income (SSI) payments have a very important responsibility to report any change in their circumstances that could have an effect on their eligibility or amount of their payment. SSI is a Federal program that provides a basic cash income to people 65 and over, or blind, or disabled, who have little income and own little property. Although SSI is administered by the Social Security Administration, all funds come from Federal general revenues, not Social Security taxes. A person who does not report a change may get too much money and have to pay it back. Or, the person may miss out on money if the change would raise the payment.

A person must report: Any change in a savings account, Christmas club, certificates of deposit, or any account. A person whose name is on someone else's account must report this, too, even if he or she does not use the account.

Buddy Windham and Wayne Sharpless, Guidance Counselors at Elba High School, have found that by converting the micro to a "dumb terminal," they can obtain computerized occupational and career information from the State Occupational Information Coordinating Committee (SOICC). SOICC is a division of the Department of Industrial Relations. Dr. Mary Louise Simms serves as the Director of the State Occupational Information Coordinating Committee.

PASTOR'S CORNER

REV. DR. PAT McFADDEN
ELBA FIRST BAPTIST

PEACE IN A NOISY WORLD

Do you have a problem with stress or anxiety? Are you a worrier? Did you know that you can have inner peace in a noisy world?

Emotional stress is at an all time high and the resulting anxiety, fear, and neuroses have reached almost epidemic proportions. Most doctors agree that stress in one way or another is at the root of most of the diseases that plague man in this century.

Ten billion barbiturates, mostly in the form of sleeping pills, are taken by Americans each year. That figures out to about 27½ million pills per night, that means there must be 7½ billion headaches every year in this country which turns out to be about 70 head aches for each person every year. Have you had your quota of trouble and stress this year? Nervous anxiety is getting so bad these days that you can't even put people to sleep with a good sermon any more.

It is obvious that there is a great lack of world peace, but that absence of peace in corporate humanity is not nearly so impressive as the absence of peace in man's individual personality. Isaiah said, "The wicked are like the troubled sea, when it cannot rest..." (Is. 57:20). The psalmist said, "Oh that I had wings like a dove! for then I would fly away, and be at rest" (Ps. 55:6). The prophet said, "There is no peace... under the wicked" (Isa. 48:22).

Peace is one of the major themes of the Bible. God is described as the God of peace. Jesus is called the "Prince of Peace." Peace was his dominion and he came to bring "on earth peace, good will toward men." When he left us, he said, "I leave you with my peace." (John 14:27).

So on the one hand our most pressing need is for inner peace, and on the other hand the greatest gift of God, according to the Bible, is peace. The problem is, how do you get the two together?

PEACE COMES THROUGH SALVATION

The Bible says, "Therefore being justified by faith, we have peace with God through our Lord Jesus Christ" (Rom. 5:1).

PEACE COMES THROUGH SERVICE

Ephesians 2:14 calls Christ "our peace." Peace, then, is one of the many by-products of being saved or of eternal life.

The Scriptures teach that the reason man is the victim of stress today, the reason he has no inner calm is because he is spiritually dead. You may be the richest person in town but your millions will fail to bring you inner peace. If you are separated from God by your sins, you are suffering from a spiritual death that cannot be changed until you give your life to Christ.

Searching vainly for peace men turn to alcohol, sex, drugs and even to entertainment, but they don't find it. They earn a string of degrees to list after their name, but that won't bring peace either. They try all the great "religions" of the world but it just doesn't work. Inner peace cannot be found in any of these things. It comes only through a personal relationship with Jesus Christ.

PEACE COMES THROUGH SUBMISSION

Of course, on an aircraft carrier that is where all of the planes are with their tanks full of volatile aviation fuel. The fuel reserves are stored around the hangar deck. A fire there could mean a holocaust of destruction. The young sailor repeated, "Captain, there's a fire on the hangar deck."

The captain calmly replied, "I heard you, you go put it out." He never took his eyes off the approaching crowd.

The fire was brought under control and later the men asked the captain how he managed to remain so calm under the pressure. He said, "I have developed the ability to concentrate on the one thing before me. When I am doing that well I don't have time to be anxious or worry about other things around me."

That is the exact principle Jesus had in mind when he said, "If you will lose your life in service, then you will find it" (Matt. 10:39). Through service for Christ you will find inner peace.

PEACE COMES THROUGH THE SPIRIT

Finally, the Holy Spirit provides peace. Galatians 5:22 says, "For the fruit of the Spirit is love, joy, peace..."

It means that this inner calm is a fruit that grows naturally within the life of the person whom the Holy Spirit indwells and controls. The Holy Spirit within the life of the person whom the Holy Spirit indwells and controls. The Holy Spirit immediately upon acceptance of Christ helps you to overcome temptations, evil, and the weaknesses within your own life.

You may be fighting a severe illness, struggling with a difficult decision or taking a beating by the stock market, but that peace lets you hear God say, "Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be dismayed for the Lord thy God is with thee; whosoever thou goest" (Joshua 1:9). You may have a guilty conscience because of some wrong committed in the past; but this peace of God lets you hear, "As far as the east is from the west so far hath he removed our transgressions from us" (Ps. 103:12).

You may be nearing the end of your pilgrimage and the last chapter of your life may be nearing a close, but if you have inner peace you hear the Word of God promising, "Through the valley..." (Ps. 23:4). You may have recently lost a loved one or you are now facing that prospect. Peace brings to mind the words of Jesus, "I am the resurrection..." (John 11:25).

Our is a stressful and anxious society. You can, however, have inner peace in this noisy world. Peace comes through salvation, submission, service and the Spirit.

All Around Coffee County

Thomas C. Casaday

PEANUT CLINIC

Coffee County farmers are invited to attend the Alabama Peanut Clinic and Machinery Show on Tuesday, August 16. The program will be held at the Houston County Farm Center in Dothan beginning at 8:30 a.m. It will last until about mid-afternoon.

The Auburn specialists and the folks in Dothan have lined up an excellent day which will include some very timely information on this peanut crop. You will also have an opportunity to see a lot of machinery and some new equipment. Drive over to the Farm Center and take a neighbor with you.

CATTLE TOUR

Coffee County is making progress in the beef cattle industry. I was reminded of this last Saturday on a tour of several Coffee County beef cattle producers' farms to see cattle and equipment.

Dan Presley and Mack Donaldson, president of the Cattlemen's Association, put together a very interesting tour. In fact, it started at 8:00 and ended about 5:30 with a stop at Rensel Nichols' farm south of Enterprise for lunch.

The surest way to get the quickest improvement in the quality of beef cattle in this county is through the purchase of high performance bulls. According to Presley, over two dozen superior bulls have been bought and put to use in this county in the last two years. It takes years to build beef cattle herds, but progress is being made.

SAVE MONEY

Ron Weeks, our area pest management specialist at Headland, is a great believer in checking every field carefully before you spend money for insecticides. There is a tendency to spray for insects and soybeans entirely too early for the control of foliage feeding worms. Some folks find worms in damaging numbers in one field and then spray all the fields without checking each individual field. A lot of money is wasted this way!

PEANUT PRODUCERS

Representative Jimmy Holley recently contributed $100 to the South Eastern Peanut Political Action Committee, an organization which may be instrumental in helping farmers during the legislation of the 1984 Farm Bill.

SEPPAC is a new organization formed by the peanut producers in Georgia, Florida, and Alabama in an attempt to generate a greater awareness of the peanut business and its needs in Washington.

Holley commended peanut growers for their efforts in trying to increase their legislative impact through such an organization and pledged his support and cooperation in helping farmers, personally and through SEPPAC, to obtain the legislation they need.

"I think it's fantastic that SEPPAC is targeting the federal government, that's where our problems have been in the past and that's where we need that," Holley commented.

Representative Holley has been an avid supporter of peanut producers in southeast Alabama. Alabama

PEANUT PRODUCERS like himself, as well as the producers by helping maintain a healthy program. However, he added that the first concern should be for the individual who is an actual peanut producer.

Through voluntary contributions to SEPPAC, peanut farmers and individuals involved in other segments of the peanut industry can collectively contribute to the political campaigns of selected national candidates.

When you're packing your bag to go to the beach this summer, be sure to take along a bottle of vinegar and a package of baking soda to treat those painful jellyfish stings. This is the advice given in an article by Joseph W. Burnett, MD, and his colleagues for Baltimore, Maryland, and published in the July issue of the SOUTHERN MEDICAL JOURNAL.

Although folk remedies for jellyfish stings abound, no one had ever determined scientifically if any of them really work.

The Baltimore physicians devised controlled experiments with two common types of jellyfish, the sea nettle and the Portuguese man-of-war. Their results indicate that Clorox, a household and ammonia should not be used. Sand is not indicated because it causes injury and scrapes to the skin. The use of a commercial sting remedy was effective but may cause additional stinging when finally removed by rinsing. Typically applied meat tenderizer or papain is possibly beneficial but may result in skin injury.

The doctors conclude that for first aid of a sea nettle sting there are three steps: (1) Sprinkle the injured area with baking soda moistened to make a slurry. (2) Wipe off with your hand any tentacles left clinging to the wound. (3) Keep the wounded better still for 30 to 60 minutes.

The steps are exactly the same for the Portuguese man-of-war except that in step 1, use vinegar instead of soda.

Alabama Electric Cooperative, Inc. is finalizing plans for a major renovation project on the Gantt Hydroelectric Facility. The Gantt facility, located approximately eight miles north of Andalusia, has been producing power since the mid 1920's.

Neither of the recreational lakes will be affected before Labor Day. Therefore, the water level will be restored to near normal no later than December. Specific dates will be released as soon as construction schedules have been completed by the contractor. Assuming construction proceeds as planned, Point-A Lake will be lowered and restored prior to the lowering of Gantt.

Both Gantt Lake and Point-A Lake will be affected by the project. Projected

Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program Offered

Through an earlier agreement with the Department of Pensions and Security, Governor George C. Wallace announced that effective October 1, 1983, the Department of Economic and Community Affairs will become the single state agency responsible for the administration of the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIEAP).

The LIEAP, a Federal block grant from the Department of Health and Human Services, is expected to provide 17 million dollars to the State. A large portion of these funds would be set aside to assist low income households in paying their fuel bills.

In planning for the expenditure of LIEAP funds for the coming winter, Bill Ruston, Director of the Department of Economic and Community Affairs, appointed a LIEAP Advisory Committee.

The Committee, chaired by Michael Broadfoot of the Probate and consisting of various fuel suppliers and social agencies across the State, held its first meeting in Montgomery on July 26th.

The LIEAP advisory Committee approved a draft LIEAP State Plan. A copy of the Plan will be mailed to all community action commissions across the State this week. Additionally, a summary of the plan will appear in all major Alabama newspapers Sunday, August 7th.

Williams & Smiths Honored On 25th Anniversaries By Children

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Williams honored their parents with a reception on their 25th anniversary on Sunday, July 31, 1983, at the Elba Church of Christ.

The front doors of the church building were adorned with beautiful silver bows and wedding bells. As the guests arrived they were greeted by Debbie and Pam Williams, and Lisa and Phillip Smith. Lovely Stephanie Williams, of Brundage, presided over the guest registry.

Receiving guests with the honored couples were their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Bryan, Mrs. Fleming Bradshaw and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Williams. The reception area was beautifully decorated with appointments of fern, silk floral arrangements and wedding bells.

The refreshment tables were lovely with white linen cloths overlaid with white lace. The beautiful three tiered anniversary cake was adorned with clusters of pink roses. The top tier was placed on pedestals which held tiny silver wedding bells and nestled on the top were silver roses with the numbers "25". Miniature cakes with the names of the honored couple were placed on each side.

Silver appointments held nuts, mints and cheese wafers. A large silver candelabra with pink candles and pink bows completed the table decorations. Mrs. Gerald Tucker and Mrs. Gus McCall assisted with the serving. The separate punch table was attended by Miss Terri Young.

An interesting feature for those attending was a large covered bulletin board displaying pictures of the honored couples during their years of dating. The guests especially enjoyed this feature.

The gift tables were covered with white linen and pink lace. The center floral arrangement consisted of pink carnations with three burning tapers. Each table contained a picture of the honored couple and their families.

Background recorded music was provided by the Alton Howard Singers of Monroe, La. Approximately 100 friends and relatives called during the hours of 2:30 and 4:00.
